

Title VII Native

American Indian Education Fact Sheet

Program Information

- Each year, CUSD submits a two-part grant to the U.S. Department of Education to compete for limited Title VII Indian Education Funds.
- The funds are designed to meet and support the special educational and culturally related academic needs of American Indians and Alaska Natives, so that such students can achieve the same challenging State performance standards expected by all students.
- The program targets students who are performing below the “proficient” level as indicated on the annual California State Standards Test.
- Each child enrolled in the Indian Education Program is required to complete and submit a Title VII Student Eligibility Certification, 506 Form. This form may be obtained from any CUSD School, the Department of Special Projects or on the CUSD Web Page.

Instructional Support

- The CUSD Indian Education Program addresses the needs students in grades K-12.
- Tutors provide additional help in a small group settings or one-on-one sessions with students to address specific weaknesses or a time to complete assignments with extra help or support.
- The program’s main focus continues to be assisting students who are struggling in their classroom.
- The program provided additional tutoring to 365 students in grades K-12 at 30 sites throughout the district or an additional 156 hours of support per week.

Parent Roles and Responsibilities

- The Native American Indian Education Parent Advisory Committee (PAC) provides input and feedback relative to the Title VII Program and provides input on an annual Needs Assessment for parents Review the SSC bylaws annually
- The PAC meets four times a year to discuss program issues, services provided, and other needs related to the student achievement of our students. In addition, there are presentations provided on a variety of topics requested by our parents.
